

Prof. Dr. Sergio Salvatore

Address: Via Luigi de Simone 22, 73100 Lecce (Italy)

+39335271832

Sergio.salvatore@unisalento.it

Date of Birth: 28th of November 1965

Nationality: Italian

Professor of Dynamic Psychology at the Department of History, Society and Humanities, University of Salento.

Scientific Coordinator of the Re.Cri.Re Project (2015-2018), granted by the EU in the EU H2020 framework (www.recrire.eu)

His scientific interests regard the psychodynamic and semiotic theorization of psychological and social phenomena and the methodology of analysis of socio-cultural and mental processes as field dynamics. He also takes an interest in the theory and the analysis of psychological intervention in socio-political, community, scholastic, organizational as well as clinical fields. On these issues he has designed and managed various scientific projects and published about 250 works - among volumes, chapters, and articles.

Co-editor of Integrative Psychological and Behavioral Science (Springer)

Chief editor of the Springer Book Series: Culture in Policy Making: The Symbolic Universes of Social Action

Member of the Editorial/Advisor Board of several scientific journals

Roles in the Italian academic context:

Member of the panel GEV-ANVUR/Area 11 VQR (2004-2010).

Secretary of the CPA (Conference of the Academic Psychology, (2013-2016)

Member of the Board on Educational Affairs of the EFPA-European Federation of Psychologists' Associations (2016-

President of the Board of the Professors and Researchers of Dynamic Psychology of the Italian University (2016-)

Vice President of AIP (Associazione Italiana di Psicologia) Italian Association of Psychology (2018-